Anexia takes over the IT services business sector from SSP Europe

- Start-up of SSP Europe IT GmbH
- Company headquarters in Regensburg remain unchanged
- Strengthening of the capacity for individual development and IT services

Klagenfurt/Regensburg, April 28, 2017 – With retrospective effect to January 1, 2017, Anexia Deutschland GmbH assumes a 100% share of the IT service business sector of SSP Europe GmbH and restructures it into the newly created SSP Europe IT GmbH. A long partnership unites the two companies, with Anexia already acting in the role of external consultant for technical infrastructure as well as providing the corresponding support for SSP Europe over the last 12 months.

The business of the new SSP Europe IT GmbH is led by the duo of Alexander Windbichler, founder and CEO of Anexia Internetdienstleistungs GmbH, and Holger Bellinghausen De Coster, managing director of Anexia Deutschland GmbH.

SSP Europe's focus on high-quality IT services remains unchanged as does the company headquarters in Regensburg and the employee base. The portfolio of services for infrastructure and cloud services will be extended. Managing director Alexander Windbichler explains: "SSP Europe IT's focus on high-quality IT services remains unchanged as does the company headquarters in Regensburg and the employee base. The portfolio of services for infrastructure and cloud services will be extended."
